CRUDEOIL

Crude oil trading range for the day is 4110-4252.

Crude oil dropped after data showed China's overall exports of goods and services shrank for a fourth straight month

China's crude oil imports hit a record high on a daily basis in November, as refiners operated at high run rates to use up annual import quotas.

Still, U.S. production has surged since the OPEC+ cuts were first introduced in 2017 in an attempt to drain a supply glut that had long weighed on prices.

Energy services firm Baker Hughes said in its closely watched weekly drilling report that the U.S. drill count fell in the week to Dec. 6 – a seventh week of decline.

NATURAL GAS

Natural gas trading range for the day is 149.3-171.7.

Natural gas fell on forecasts for less cold weather and heating demand through late December than previously expected.

Meteorologists now forecast the weather over the U.S. Lower 48 states will fluctuate from warmer to colder than normal through Dec. 20 before turning warmer than normal

Utilities likely pulled 82 billion cubic feet (bcf) of gas from storage during the week ended Dec. 6.

Speculators boosted their net short positions on the NYMEX and Intercontinental Exchange last week by 44,641 contracts to 213,682, their highest since August.
