CRUDEOIL

Crude oil trading range for the day is 4113-4259.

Crude oil gained after on fresh tensions in the Middle East after a key Saudi Arabian supply hub was knocked out in an attack last weekend.

Saudi Arabia's production dropped by almost half after an attack crippled a major oil processing facility.

In the United States, meanwhile, torrential rain from Tropical Storm Imelda has forced a major refinery to cut production and shut a key oil pipeline

U.S. crude stockpile rose last week as refineries cut output, and gasoline and distillate inventories also rose, the Energy Information Administration said.

NATURAL GAS

Natural gas trading range for the day is 175.4-185.8.

Natural gas fell as demand forecasts stayed mostly steady from the prior day.

The U.S. Energy Information Administration (EIA) said utilities added 84 billion cubic feet (bcf) of gas to storage during the week ended Sept. 13.

The amount of gas in inventory has remained below the five-year average since September 2017.

Warmer than normal weather caused power generators to burn more gas than usual to keep air conditioners humming.
