- Gold Goes From Commodity Leader to Laggard in Shocking Reversal
- Oil drops as investors gauge big chill impact on U.S. refineries
- Copper price blasts to 9-year high on demand optimism

Precious metals

Gold entered 2021 with lofty expectations on the back of a record high and its biggest annual gain in a decade. Instead, the precious metal is off to its worst start in 30 years. Bullion for immediate delivery headed for a sixth straight loss on Thursday, the longest run since late 2018, while gold futures touched a seven-month low.

NYMEX Oil

Oil prices slid as much as 2% in early trade on Friday, adding to overnight declines, on worries that refineries shut by a big freeze in the U.S. South will take some time to revive operations and dent crude demand. Brent crude futures dropped $1.07, or 1.7%, to $62.86 a barrel, after declining 0.6% on Thursday.

Base Metals

Copper prices jumped to a nine-year high on Thursday as Chinese investors returned from a week-long holiday, adding impetus to a rally that has almost doubled prices since the height of coronavirus worries last March.Copper for delivery in March was up 2.1% to $3.9025 a pound (about $8,603.58 a tonne) by 1 p.m. in New York, after a slight pullback from the previous day's trading. Earlier in the session, the contract had reached $3.931 ($8,666.42), its highest since September 2011.Copper's red-hot rally rolls on with London Metal Exchange (LME) three-month metal hitting $8,437 per tonne on Tuesday, its highest level since May 2012. Exchange stocks are low and LME time-spreads are tightening. Copper's micro dynamics are reinforcing the macro reflation trade that is lifting prices across the commodities spectrum.
