GOLD

Gold trading range for the day is 44286-45632.

Gold closed higher recovering from weakness, amid expectations the lower interest regime will continue to push up bullion prices.

The benchmark U.S. 10-year Treasury yield vaulted above 1.74% for the first time since January 2020, while the dollar jumped 0.6%.

The U.S. economy appears set to leave other developed markets in the dust this year with the largest annual growth spurt in decades.

U.S. demand, very strong U.S. demand, as the economy improves, is going to support global activity as well, over time, Powell said.

SILVER

Silver trading range for the day is 66118-69284.

Silver remained positive after Fed kept the interest rate unchanged and reiterated its stance to keep benchmark rates near-zero through at least 2023.

The Fed's assessment of U.S. growth, which could be fastest since 1984 this year, also weighed on the precious metal.

The dollar pushed higher helped by rising U.S. Treasury yields after the Federal Reserve said it expects inflation to rise to 2.4 percent in 2021

Investors worry that if inflation picks up, central banks might respond by raising interest rates, which would cool economic growth.
