Global Debt Market:

Global bond markets have struggled broadly in the first three months of 2021, with US Treasuries at the centre of the market storm. But the selling has also been severe in UK debt, which has tumbled 6.5 per cent on a total return basis, on track for the worst performance on records stretching to 2000, according to a Bloomberg Barclays index. Holders of UK government bonds are suffering the worst quarter in at least two decades as Britain's economic prospects brighten, setting a contrast with the eurozone where a more sputtering recovery from the coronavirus crisis is helping haven assets hold their value.

10 Year Benchmark Technical View:

10 year Benchmark (5.85% GS 2030) yield likely to move in the range of 6.1% to 6.15% level on Friday .
