

Sensex (48950) / Nifty (14725)

Yesterday morning the global set up was just ideal to have a gap up opening in the market and in fact, Nifty started the session slightly higher than what SGX Nifty was indicating. During the first half, index consolidated in a narrow range with no real momentum, but post the mid-session, we witnessed a good broad based participation to push the Nifty beyond 14700 on the weekly expiry session. Eventually, Nifty ended the session with over seven tenths of a percent gains.

Although, there was some sluggishness seen in the initial hours, market did not even challenged its first intraday support of 14550. In fact, 14600 acted as a sheet anchor and hence, there was sustained up move seen in the latter half to close inside the strong terrain. The way intraday price chart is positioned, there is a high probability that we may surpass the crucial hurdle of 14730 at the opening itself today. After this, 14818 – 14850 – 14900 are the levels to watch out for. On the flipside, 14650 followed by 14600 should be treated as intraday supports.

| Key Levels | | |
|-------------------|----------------|-------|
| Support 1 – 14650 | Resistance 1 – | 14818 |
| Support 2 – 14600 | Resistance2 – | 14850 |

Nifty Bank Outlook - (32828)

We started-off the weekly expiry day slightly higher; however, the follow-up buying was really missing. In the initial couple of hours, the BankNifty posted an intraday low 32564 and then some buying interest was seen to extend the upmove towards morning levels. Eventually, we concluded the dull day with the marginal gains.

The banking index clearly underperformed the benchmark; despite, some positive sentiments build post RBI governor's meet for relief measures to borrowers affected by the second wave of Covid. It's the fourth trading session; wherein index has been hovering in the narrow range of 32000-33000 with no major triggers. However, until the BankNifty manages to sustain above the important psychological mark of 32000; we don't see any sign of caution.

| Key Levels | |
|-------------------|----------------------|
| Support 1 – 32200 | Resistance 1 – 33000 |
| Support 2 – 32000 | Resistance 2 – 33400 |

Exhibit 1: Nifty Daily Chart

The key indices are slowly and steadily moving northwards; but individual stocks are attracting lot of buying interest. One should continue with a stock specific approach because the real action lies there only and thematic ideas are providing a fabulous trading opportunity. One of the notable observations is the development in 'NIFTY MIDCAP' index. Yesterday, it has managed to surpass the higher boundary of the cluster of resistance by a small margin. Couple of follow up moves in this basket would provide the real impetus for the next leg of the rally. So all eyes on it now.

View

- Nifty traded with a positive bias on the weekly expiry session and ended above 14700 mark.
- FIIs were net buyers in the cash segment to the tune of Rs. 1223 crores. In index futures front, they sold worth Rs. 251 crores with rise in open interest indicating short formations in yesterday's session.
- We witnessed some long formation in Nifty while the banking index shed some open interest. Post a continuous selling in the last few days, FII's turned buyers in the cash segment yesterday but they added marginal shorts in index futures and their 'Long Short Ratio' is now tad below 51 percent. The options data hints at support around 14500 and till the index trades above this support, traders should look for buying opportunities on intraday declines. The index could again approach the 15000 mark in the near term.
